II. Answer in short.

1. Read the following newspaper report.

3 Million-Year-Old Human Skeleton Found!
1974, Ethiopia

Donald Johanson, an expert in human history, unearthed bones in Ethiopia. He put these together to form a human skeleton! He named the skeleton 'Lucy', after a famous song.

Lucy is believed to be 3.2 million years old. Experts are thrilled, as this is one of the oldest human skeletons to have been found anywhere on Earth.

They hope that Lucy will help them learn more about early humans.

"I can't believe it," said Johanson, when he put it together. "I just can't believe it!"
